Russian Forces Have Pierced The Austro-German Lines

PETROGRAD, via London, Oct. 12.—Russian forces have pierced the Austro-German lines on the Stripa river. They have already taken more than 2,000 men and 60 officers and have captured four guns and ten rapid firers. The Russian advance is being pushed vigorously.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Bulgarian troops invaded Serbia last night.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Greek chamber was informed by Premier Zaimis at a meeting yesterday that in order to better assure the vital interests of Greece her neutrality "will for the present, be armed," says a Reuter dispatch from Athens.

City Council Presented With Huge Petition

They Withdraw Offer to Purchase Western General Electric Plant

A mammoth petition, with over a hundred names of prominent ratepayers, was presented to the City Council at a special meeting, held on Thursday evening last, asking that the Council withdraw their offer of two hundred thousand dollars to the Western General Electric Co. for their plant.

The petition was presented by Dr. John Collins, who circulated it, and who spoke on the question. He was backed up by Mr. H. H. Gaetz and Mr. R. B. Welliver.

The following is the wording of the petition:
To the Mayor and Aldermen,
City of Red Deer, Alberta.
We, the undersigned ratepayers of the city of Red Deer, having regard to the unsettled state of finances, and the uncertainty of when the war will be at an end, and the possibility that the purchase might raise the taxation quite high enough, humbly pray your honorable body to withdraw the offer recently made to the Western General Electric company for purchase; at least, until the war is brought to a successful termination and finances assume a more normal state.

Signed by:
The petition was so forcible and convincing, the Council carried the following motion unanimously with practically no comment:
Moved by Alderman Johns, seconded by Alderman Smith, that the offer of this Council of September 27th, 1915, to the Western General Electric Co., to purchase its plant and franchise for $200,000, be withdrawn.

The following letter was handed in to the city office three hours before the Council met:
To the Mayor and Council,
City of Red Deer.
Gentlemen: We acknowledge having received from your secretary-treasurer a copy of a resolution passed at an adjourned meeting of the Council, held on 27th September, whereby an offer of $200,000 in bonds, under certain conditions, was tendered to us for certain assets of this company. That offer we will not accept, but we appreciate the spirit of courtesy which prompted it.

In offering to accept $250,000 in bonds, under certain specified conditions, some time ago, we quoted the lowest price that we would accept, and a price at which we conscientiously believed would furnish a golden opportunity for the city to acquire the utilities upon a basis that would have proven exceedingly advantageous to the community. That offer we now hereby withdraw.

Yours truly,
The Western General Electric Co.
Per Geo. E. Wishart, Sec'y-Treas.

Heavy debenture coupons falling due at the first of this month, as yet unpaid, and difficulty in realizing on the debentures sold to Wood, Gundy & Co., and the necessity of taking of immediate measures toward the collection of outstanding taxes, and the following motion, exceedingly urgent, was carried:
That the Commissioners make an energetic campaign for collection of taxes, both current and arrears, stating that the city has certain obligations that must be taken care of.

Amory, Nevell, Ford, Bolton and Mount, of Edmonton, solicitors for the Western General Electric Co., forwarded the following letter:
City of Red Deer.
Dear Sir:—The Western General Electric Company, Limited, has the honor to inform you that we have been made aware of the fact that you are making payment of the sum due by the City of Red Deer to our client, the amount at present being $2,750 and made within the course of the next few days, it will be necessary to two in which half of the company, but we feel sure that the city authorities will see their way to avoid the necessity of doing this.

Alderman Watson, seconded by Alderman Johns, moved that the offer be withdrawn. The motion was carried. The following motion was carried: That the City of Red Deer, having regard to the unsettled state of finances, and the uncertainty of when the war will be at an end, and the possibility that the purchase might raise the taxation quite high enough, humbly pray your honorable body to withdraw the offer recently made to the Western General Electric company for purchase; at least, until the war is brought to a successful termination and finances assume a more normal state.

G. K. Johnston Joins The 42nd

Geo. K. Johnston, of the W. E. Red Co. staff, will sail for England in a mail, and will join the 42nd Battalion, on Monday last week, the eve of his departure for Calgary, where he is engaged in the 42nd Battalion, at Knox Presbyterian Church, the recipient of a handsome military wrist watch, suitably inscribed, the gift of young people of the church, with which he has been so closely identified while in the city. The presentation was preceded by an address of appreciation of his many services in the life and work of the church, and the reading of a poem, composed for the occasion by Miss Alice Grant.

In concluding the social evening which followed, the officers of the Young People's Society for the current year were elected, as follows:
Hon. President—Rev. W. G. Brown.
Hon. Vice-Presidents—Mr. W. R. Ellenwood, Mrs. Chas. Wright.
President—Mr. Roy Reynolds.
President—Miss Gladys Dykes.
Secretary—C. C. Malcolm.
Treasurer—Miss Alice Grant.
Organist—Miss Reta Ball.
Assistant Organist—Miss Alice Grant.

Convenor Devotional Committee—Miss Reta Ball.
Convenor Social Committee—Miss Nelson.
Convenor Lookout Committee—Mr. Fred Ansett.
Convenor Missionary and Literature—Mr. C. Malcolm.

HOME MISSION APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments have been made for the Home Mission fields of the Presbyterian church for six months beginning October 1st, within the Presbytery of Red Deer:
Blackfalds—Mr. Kink.
Cumberland—Mr. Eakin.
Penhold—Rev. W. A. Mason.
Trunk—Rev. J. H. Kellock.
Rocky Mountain House—Mr. H. J. Bevan.
Leslieville—Mr. R. McCallum.
Everts and Eckville—Mr. G. McKechnie.
Finnish Union—Rev. A. A. Horju.

LOSES THREE SONS.

Paris, October 8.—Three sons of General Eduardo Curioso de Castanhal have lost their lives at the front. Two of them were killed some time ago, and the death of the third, Second Lieutenant Hughes de Castanhal, who was wounded in the recent fighting in Artois, was announced today.

To All Frenchmen in Alberta

Those who were incorporated before the 2nd day of August, 1914, and who have been, from this date, reformed No. 2, temporarily reformed, or classed in the auxiliary service, after a first medical examination; and who, after a second examination, would have been found fit for military duties, are requested to pass a 3rd medical examination in accordance with the latest instruction from the French war office.

Lord Brooke to Command Brigade Including 49th

Ottawa, October 7.—The organization of the additional Canadian half division at the front known as the corps troops, as announced some days ago, has necessitated a few changes in the commanding officers. Major General Hughes announced today that Lord Brooke who has been named as the first brigade of the First Canadian Division will command the corps troops and command a brigade made up of the 42nd and 49th battalions, the latter of Edmonton, the Royal Canadian Regiment, the Princess Patricia's Regiment and Col. Smart's cavalry. Lord Brooke will be succeeded on the 1st division by Col. Rennie, who will probably be named a brigadier general on assuming command of the 1st brigade.

Christmas Gifts for the Canadian Soldiers

Suggestions as to suitable Christmas gifts for Canada's soldiers in the field are made in an open letter to the press just issued by the Canadian Field Comforts Commission. Generous aid from the public is asked as there are now approximately 10,000 men on active service.

The requirements are as follows:
Socks, underwear, shirts, small towels, books, handkerchiefs, leather boot laces, candles, sweeties, cocoa, soap, toothbrushes, toilet paper, pencils, games, cards, tobacco, gum, etc.

Everything must be in Montreal by the end of October in order to have packing and despatching done in good time.

Those wishing to contribute in Red Deer should have their parcels sent to the Red Cross rooms by Tuesday, 19th, or Mr. George will take charge of parcels at her home during the week.

8,000,000 War Casualties

2,000,000 KILLED; 3,600,000 HURT AND 2,300,000 MISSING.

American General Calls This Minimum Estimate—Allies' Loss is 4,167,000, and Teutons' is Put at 3,820,000.

West Point, N.Y., October 8.—General Francis Vinton Greene, of the United States army, retired, in an address on the war before the New York State Historical association, last night, gave what he called an "intelligent guess" of the casualties. He estimated the number of killed at 2,066,000, the wounded at 3,626,000, the missing at 2,305,000. He said that the total number of casualties was 8,000,000. These were minimum figures, the General said.

Austro-Germans Repulsed on Lower Drina with Great Losses

SERBIANS TO TAKE OFFENSIVE AS SOON AS THE ENTENTE ALLIES' REINFORCEMENTS COME UP, SAYS SERBIAN ATTACHE IN PARIS.

Paris, October 10, (2.10 p.m.)—The announcement made yesterday by the German war office of the capture of Belgrade after desperate resistance was confirmed in an official statement from Nish issued here today at the Serbian legation. The Austro-German attack on the lower Drina on the northwestern frontier is said to have been repulsed with enormous losses for the Teutons. The enemy has begun an advance eastward towards the mountains which the Serbians last year so stubbornly and successfully defended against the Austrians.

Rome, October 10, via Paris.—The military attaché of the Serbian legation here says the Serbians will take the offensive against the Austro-German forces as soon as the entente allies' reinforcements come up. But even without the allied reinforcements, he declares, the Serbians are quite able to prevent the Austro-German advance.

London, October 10.—The Bulgarians, acting in concert with their new allies, are advancing from Sofia toward Piro, on the Serbian frontier, the fortress which covers the road to Nish, the Serbian war capital. The French and British are landing troops at the rate of 14,000 daily at Saloniki to send by railway to the assistance of Serbia.

Amsterdam, October 10.—Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria will act as commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian forces, according to Sofia dispatches received. War Minister Jakoff will serve as field commander.

BRITISH REPORT.
London, October 10.—Field Marshal French reports that all German attacks on new trenches south of Loos have been repulsed. In spite of heavy fire, the British have advanced northeast of Loos, gaining from 500 to 1,000 yards in depth. The British losses have been comparatively slight.

ITALY LIKELY TO SEND FORCES TO AID THE SERBS
Gen. Cadorna, However, Said to Oppose Plan for Military Reasons.

Udine, Italy, October 8.—It is reported in Udine, Italy, that Gen. Cadorna, chief of the Italian general staff, is strongly opposed to the participation of Italy in an expedition to the Dardanelles or Saloniki, maintaining that it would be a mistake to divide the military and naval forces of the country while the campaign in Europe is still undecided.

Gen. Cadorna has sent Gen. Porro, commander-in-chief of the cabinet, which, however, considers that Italy must further extend her participation into the war.

Two projects to assist Serbia have been studied. One consisted of landing troops at Durazzo, from which point they could reach Serbia across Albania. This was abandoned because the expedition would need to traverse a hundred miles over a matter how long delayed, it will reach its destination.

The other project—to reach Serbia from Avlona—was considered more practical owing to the splendid ancient Roman roads from Avlona to Lake Ochrid.

FRENCH GAINING THE UPPER HAND.

Paris, October 8.—Soldiers wounded at the capture of Tuluze, now arriving in Paris, are all of the opinion that the French are gaining the upper hand, not only through their artillery, but because of the gallantry and dash of the infantry.

At the rate things are going, said a wounded sergeant-major, "it will be a long time before the Germans are in a position to think of a counter offensive."

LAST STAND OF KAISERDOM.

Henry Waterson in Louisville Courier-Journal: "In the persons of Wilhelm and Franz Josef the Right Divine is making its last stand. Fully prepared, it is making to sweep all before it. The fighting machine is relatively equal as to the forces engaged to that of the Confederacy to the Union. It is winning great victories just now. But with the defeat of the kaisers there shall arise a new Germany—a democratic Germany—and ultimately peace on earth, good will to men. Meanwhile to Hail with the Hohenzollern and the Hapsburg, and all who willingly support and follow them!

COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF GREEK ARMY.
Prince Nicholas of Greece, brother of King Constantine, who will command the Greek army in the event of hostilities with Bulgaria. It is said that the King also will go to the front unless his physicians forbid it.

LACOMBE

(Western Globe)

The first annual sale of pure bred rams, under the auspices of the Lacombe Wool Growers' Association, held in the bull sale pavilion here, yesterday, was most successful, and the Association is highly pleased with the result of their efforts. Buyers were here from all parts of Central Alberta, and somewhere in the neighborhood of one hundred rams were offered for sale. Competition was keen for the good fellows, one belonging to A. W. Sharp bringing the fancy price of $51.00. The average price of the pure-breds was good, running up to $22.10 per head, while the grades averaged $13.00 per head. Live Stock Commissioner Stevens was here for the sale, and expressed his gratification at its great success. He said it was a far greater success than the first bull sale the province held in Calgary, and was of the opinion that next year the entries would be very heavy. S. W. Paisley conducted the sale to the satisfaction of everyone, buyers and sellers alike being well pleased.

Wes. Newton took from one hill of potatoes this week thirteen perfect potatoes, which weighed fifteen pounds. The potatoes were clean and clean, and he says they are a fair sample of his field.

Glaude Francis Stent, of Trinity, College, Toronto, second son of Mrs. H. Sumner Stent, has successfully passed his examination, taking his degree of B.A., also gaining certificates for oratory. Many Lacombe citizens will remember him, as he was on the staff of the Merchants' Bank here nine years ago.

Harry Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Parker, left for Calgary on Monday, having joined the Canadian contingent recruiting there.

NEW YORK BOY

ALLEGED A SPY.

New York, October 8.—Kenneth G. Triest, the son of Wolfgang Triest, of the engineering constructing firm of Snare and Triest, of New York city, is under arrest as a spy in London. The charge is that he enlisted in the British navy to learn secrets to send to Germany, the birthplace of his father.

Archdeaconry Meeting

The fall meeting of the Archdeaconry of Red Deer began at noon, Monday, at St. Luke's Parish Hall. The first session opened at 2.30 p.m. with Archdeacon Dewdney in the chair, His Lordship the Bishop of Calgary being also present.

The matter of apportionments due the diocese from the different parishes in the deanery was discussed and reported upon by the clergy and a very satisfactory condition was found to exist. With one exception, all the parishes were found to have paid their apportionments in time.

The question of the last of family prayer in the home was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Paterson, of Lacombe, and a committee was appointed to deal with the matter and report to the chapter.

The committee decided to draw up a simple form of morning and evening prayer for the family and to urge its adoption in the home. It was also decided to hold on the eve of All Saints' Day, Sunday, October 31st, special memorial services throughout the Archdeaconry.

In the evening His Lordship the Bishop gave an interesting account of the meeting of General Synod, recently held in Toronto. The address was much appreciated.

This was followed by an able paper on the Scottish Church by the Rev. A. D. Currie, rector of Park Lake. Mr. Currie dealt with his subject under four headings—The pre-Celtic period, the Celtic period, Margaret to the Reformation, and the Reformation to the present day.

On Tuesday the session opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a.m. breakfast at 8.45, and again at 10 a.m.

The Rev. Mr. Leacock, of Calgary, then took up the "devotional study," based on the fourth chapter of the first epistle of St. John, verses seven to twenty-one.

This was followed by a paper by the Rev. H. M. Shore, of St. Michael's and All Angels' Church, Calgary, on Forber Robinson's book, "The Self-limitation of the Word of God."

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a social and reception will be held in the Parish Hall, to which all the members of the congregation are cordially invited.

British and Foreign Bible Society

The Rev. H. D. Marr, representing the Canadian Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, preached in the city last Sunday. The morning service was in the Presbyterian Church, when Mr. Marr spoke of the appeal of the Bible in the life of the individual, the home, and the nation. Mr. Marr spoke to the Baptist Church, also at Willowdale in the afternoon, and in the evening preached a strong sermon in the Methodist Church from the text in Philippians, "This one thing I do."

Mr. Marr spoke of the publication of the Scriptures by the British and Foreign Bible Society in various languages and made an earnest appeal for the support of this organization.

After the evening service the Bible Society was closed by the singing of hymns.

WAR AND PERSONALITY

The most striking feature of the present war is not the absence of war personality, but rather the splendid courage and heroism, both in fighting and in bearing, which have been manifested among the rank and file of our soldiers, so that these qualities are becoming singular but commonplace. The fear that our race had grown degenerate and unresponsive is now gloriously negated, and, in many cases, what was deemed the most unlikely material. Professor Patrick Geddes, Britain's greatest sociologist, speaking in London, said: "Most dramatic of all to me in my own everyday life and experience in Edinburgh has been the rapid change of the deteriorating leader into a strong upright man. This refers to the large numbers of Edinburgh men of the poor class who have enlisted. Few have suffered more heavily than Scottish regiments; few have done more to cover themselves with imperishable glory."

ATROCITIES AFFIRMED

Report of Austrian Priests 'Makes Huns Out Worse'

Some time ago a committee of Austrian priests with the approval of Archbishop Pfl of Vienna set out to investigate the alleged cruelties of German troops in Belgium at the beginning of the war. It was hoped that the report of these priests, who had been admonished direct from the Pope to consider the evidence from an absolutely impartial standpoint, would clear the Germans in the eyes of the world. The report was handed to the Pope as well as to the Archbishop of Vienna, but the publication of it has been forbidden in Austria and Germany. In certain circles in Rome, however, its contents are well known, and the reason why it is being kept secret in Germany and Austria is perfectly plain.

"The German War Department," the report says, "has already admitted that many of the accusations made against Belgian franc-tireurs are false." Concerning the case of the parish priest of Oyenbrugghe, the committee reports: "When the unfortunate priest returned to his parish he was arrested without any reason whatever, and thrown into prison together with twenty-eight civilians. Here he was compelled to stand in the middle of the floor with his head raised about his head for several hours. When he finally collapsed from exhaustion he was prodded with bayonets and struck with the butts of rifles. Soldiers tore his brooches to pieces and threw them into his face. They forced two civilians to strike him and spit into his face. Finally they threw a bucket of water over him while he was lying helpless on the floor, and whenever he moved they prodded him with bayonets. When the priest tried to push aside the point of a bayonet which almost touched his face a soldier sent a bullet through his head. This is a verbatim translation of a report made by trustworthy priests, such of whom is personally known to the Archbishop of Vienna."

GERMANY AND ALSACE

Outrageous Treatment of Indomitable of Conquered People

If Germany ever had any illusions regarding the loyalty of the people of Alsace to her, they have been completely shattered and there is no better proof of this than the way in which German officials treat the people of the "Reichsland." Their fury against them is boundless and every prison is full of men and women of all classes who have incurred German wrath. Soldiers of Alsatian birth are sent to the most dangerous part of the eastern front. The fidelity of the Alsatians to France is touching. Everybody speaks the Alsatian dialect, which most of the innumerable spies do not understand.

Buckingham's Workshop
One of the finest carpenter's workshops in London is at Buckingham Palace. A little while ago the King had this workshop entirely refitted, and it now contains a splendid electrically-driven turning plant. In many of the rooms at the different Royal residences may be seen substantial, well made pieces of furniture that are the handwork of the King's carpenter. All the packing cases in which the Royal gifts of flowers, fruit, and game are despatched to various friends of their Majesty and charitable institutions are also made in the workshop at Buckingham Palace, where about 5,000 packing cases are turned out every year.

Soldiers Avoid Write
Asked, in the Vacation Court, London, Eng., to grant an attachment against a sergeant-major for non-compliance with an order calling him for a surety bond for costs, Mr Justice Low refused the application. His Lordship said that he was not going to make a writ of attachment against a person serving in His Majesty's forces in time of war, except for something criminal.

Tragedy of the Veterans
Old soldiers supply the pathetic element in the Canadian recruiting offices. Many a veteran of the Boer War broken by glory and attendant liquor, and even older ones of the Indian and Egyptian campaigns, come tearfully with shivering medals and dispirited innards. But the majority are the normal men, artisans, laborers, clerks, and young fellows not yet captive of any toll, who come like men applying for a construction job, calmly, as to face a business proposition.

Roumania is Preparing To Mobilize; Wholesale Arrests Made in Bulgaria

TWO RUSSIAN CRUISERS ARE BOMBARDING BULGARIAN PORT OF VARNNA SAYS GERMAN REPORT

New Cabinet in Greece Includes Five Former Premiers-- Present Leader Only One Not Opposed to Quadruple Entente

Geneva, October 7, via Paris.—Information reached Geneva by way of Munich today, by a source which is regarded as reliable, that Roumania will issue a decree for general mobilization within the next twelve hours.

Amsterdam, October 7, via London, October 8, 12.18.—The Cologne Gazette reports two Russian cruisers actively bombarding the Bulgarian port of Varna.

London, October 7.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegram Company from Budapest says: "The newspaper Azest says it learns from Sofia that wholesale arrests of the leaders of the Agrarian party are taking place and that the government is prepared to take stern measures to crush all domestic attempts to impair Bulgarian unity."

FIVE MEMBERS OF NEW CABINET IN GREECE ARE FORMER PREMIERS.

Paris, October 7.—"Five members of the new Greek cabinet are former premiers," says a Havas News Agency despatch from Athens. "The fact that Premier Zaimis takes the portfolio of foreign affairs is significant, as he alone, among the former premiers, has not opposed the quadruple entente, and it is considered his ideas best represent absolute neutrality."

"The cabinet will appear in the chamber next Monday and make public the declarations of its general policy, avoiding all reference to the Greco-Serbian alliance. The attitude of the Venizelos party will depend upon the government's declarations. It is regarded as probable, however, that the party will not refuse the cabinet a provisional vote of confidence."

"The ministry, as it is constituted, is considered the best solution of the ministerial crisis."

LONDON MAIL REFERS CAUSTICALLY TO BRITISH DIPLOMACY IN BALKANS.

London, October 8.—"The Balkan collapse," declares the Daily Mail editorially, "is the result of a series of diplomatic failures such as have rarely been recorded in the history of any country."

The newspaper says that in Constantinople the British Ambassador Sir Louis Metel, who was appointed in 1913, had no knowledge of Turkish or of the Turkish language, and that neither did any of the three secretaries.

"The position of this embassy was worthy of Alice in Wonderland," the Daily Mail continues, "and there is good reason to believe this embassy typified the British legations at the other Balkan capitals."

The minister at Sofia was changed as the war began, and few of its staff had been long in Bulgaria, so that King Ferdinand had no difficulty in deciding the destinies of the negotiations went on for months while the Bulgarian monarch chuckled in his sleeve at British simplicity.

"The third failure occurred at Athens. Great Britain appears to have counted on the active or passive support of Greece, but in the twinkling of an eye comes the transformation and the friendly Greek premier vanishes. Of such a possibility our diplomats appear to have had no inkling. On such events as these the fate of the empire may well depend. A diplomatic defeat is often the herald of a military defeat."

Serbian Exult With Allies Ashore

Nish, Serbia, October 5, via Paris, October 7. (Delayed in transmission).—News of the landing of French troops at Saloniki spread throughout the country with great rapidity and caused intense enthusiasm. It is considered to have dispelled the grim shadow of Germany which was falling across the frontier. These French troops, which already have passed into Serbian territory, are received at every station with the plaudits of the people. Women and children offer to the soldiers flowers, grapes and every sort of present. Macedonian notables presented the French officers with addresses affirming their Serbian nationality.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

The Grain Growers' Guide is disappointed with the Norris Government, which recently climbed to office over the remains of a corrupt Administration. After condemning the spoils system of wholesale dismissals from office upon changes of Government as corrupt and wasteful, The Guide says: "The Province of Manitoba just now, while in a splendid position to break away from the rut of party expediency and put an example in building up a really efficient business administration. So far no definite realization of this opportunity is apparent. Dismissals do not seem to have been in accord with any well defined plan for the reorganization of the Civil Service, and in several cases quite insufficient notice has been given to the employees dismissed."

Admitting that some of the former Government's appointments were political agents, and that such persons can only expect dismissal, The Guide declares that the Administration is not going the right way about reforming the service. It describes the Government employees as in a very unenviable position. Because of dismissals which have taken place, they do not know what day their livelihoods will be gone. Many have families to support, and the whole service is in a turmoil of uncertainty. They cannot settle down to the effective performance of their tasks until their fate is settled. So long as the menace of party patronage hangs over them their situation is intolerable, and all the more so because of war-time conditions and the difficulty of obtaining employment in a period of depression.—Toronto News.

CANADIAN PICTORIAL.

This elegant magazine delights the eye while it instructs the mind concerning the picturesque doings of an interesting and highly entertaining world.

Its war pictures are alone worth the money.

Each issue is literally crowded with the highest quality of photographs, many of them worth framing.

It is the most popular "Pick-me-up" on the waiting room tables of the leading doctors throughout the Dominion, and in the big public libraries it is literally "used up" by the many who are attracted by its entertaining and beautiful pages.

It's a "love at sight" publication, and it has departmental features of great interest to the young woman and the home-maker.

Of it—just to quote one man's praise from among thousands—the late Rt. Hon. Lord Strathcona, wrote:

"The 'Canadian Pictorial' is a publication which, if I may be permitted to say so, is a credit to Canada."—(Signed) Strathcona.

On trial to new subscribers—twelve months for only 65 cents. "The Canadian Pictorial" is published by The Pictorial Publishing Co., "Witness" Block, Montreal, Canada. Try it for a year on above offer.

Letter From The Front

Mr. Broughton received the following letter from his son on Monday last.

Belgium, 21st September, 1915.

Dear Dad and Mother,—

I received your most welcome letter yesterday and was pleased to hear that you were all keeping well. I have received two lots of papers from you this week and we enjoyed reading them very much.

I am keeping very well, and we are not having a bad time, although they keep us fairly busy with working parties. There is so much work to be done here on the trenches to make them a little more comfortable in case we have to put in another winter, and just now it looks very much as though we were going to be on this side of the water for a considerable time yet.

Last time in the trenches we were shelled nearly every day, but only with small shells and they did not do much damage. One of our boys had a narrow shave from a rifle bullet. A stray bullet hit him across the back of the neck, just scratching the skin and tearing the back of his coat collar off. If it had hit him about a quarter of an inch further in it would have killed him.

Our aeroplanes are pretty busy on the front just now, and they seem to us to have some very narrow escapes. There were about eighty of them sent up at one time the other morning, and they were out at a great height, and nearly dropped to the ground, he managed to get going again after he got over our lines. The Germans took several shots at him while he was flying low, but they were away wide of the mark.

Two German planes came over to try and stop ours from seeing too much, but there was nothing doing for they had to keep at a pretty safe distance.

I see that you have got our late officer's statement in the Red Deer papers, so you will know as much about Major Sandeman as we do. The information I got some time ago about him was from Capt. Page. It seems that there were two Major Sandemans, and in making enquiries they got mixed in the two men.

We did not get to know anything definite until Dr. Hart was released from Germany, but it is now pretty certain that Major Sandeman is dead. We were all sorry to lose him as he was a very good fellow and a very brave man.

We keep hearing rumors that the second contingent is over here now. I hope we run across them in our travels, as I should like to see the Red Deer boys who are in it. I suppose they must have joined the third contingent. It is rather a pity that it did not come with us, as he might have been an officer now.

I have just had to quit to get supper, and some supper it was, too—beef steak and onions, boiled potatoes, green peas, and bread and jam. Of course that is not the regular army ration, such as canned fruit and vegetables, and such as part of the bread. We should have to get hungry or else eat hard tack if it was not for the grub we buy.

Well, I shall have to close now, as it is my turn to go on guard. Remember me to all enquiring friends. I remain, your loving son, COLIN.

Sport Jottings

Dutch Becker, who backstopped for the Calgary Bronchos in 1914, has been drafted by the Ontario regiment.

Edwin Barth, former Medicine Hat receiver, this year with the Seattle Giants, has been captured in the draft by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Billy Lauder, one of the greatest and most popular little lightweights that ever entered a ring in the west, has enlisted with the 82nd at Medicine Hat.

Al Walters, one of Bill Hurley's Saskatoon proteges, purchased by the New York Americans from the Waco, Texas, Club, has caught the eye of Gotham scribes. He worked behind the bat in the last scheduled contest of the American league season, Saturday, in which the Yanks defeated the champion Boston Red Sox by 4-3.

Jack Smith, the former Regina outfielder, sold to St. Louis National by Seattle, has joined Miller Huggins' club. He is in a hot position on Saturday, piling out a single and a triple, the latter being the winning hit. Pete Standridge ended the season with a win against Cincinnati, winning his own game in the eleventh with a two-bagger.

Jean Gregg, of the Boston Red Sox pitching staff, a possible participant in the world series at present in progress, is a property owner in Alberta, and along with his father owns a big tract of land near Millet, just south of Edmonton. Every autumn after the American league season is ended Jean beats it off to Alberta and spends a month or more at his favorite pastime, hunting.

Loekley McKnight, principal of McCauley School, Edmonton, and L. B. Yule, principal of King Edward School of the same city, who hold Alberta tennis doubles championship, have decided to do their training with the 56th battalion. Mr. Yule was one of the examiners for the provincial public and high school examinations here this summer.

Bulgarian Manifesto Reveals Reasons for Joining With Teutons

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, October 8.—The Frankfurter Zeitung asserts that the Bulgarian government has issued a manifesto, announcing its decision to enter the war on the side of the central powers. This manifesto, as quoted from the Zeitung by the Overseas News Agency, states that Bulgaria would commit suicide if she did not align herself with Germany and her allies. The manifesto, as given out by the news agency, follows:

VERSION OF MANIFESTO.

"The central powers have promised us parts of Serbia, creating an Austro-Bulgarian border line absolutely necessary for Bulgaria's independence of the Serbians."

"We do not believe in the promises of the quadruple entente. Italy, one of the allies, treacherously broke her treaty of 33 years. We believe in Germany, which is fighting the whole world to fulfil her treaty with Austria."

"Bulgaria must fight on the victors' side. The Germans and Austro-Hungarians are victorious on all fronts. Russia soon will have collapsed entirely. Then will come the turn of France, Italy and Serbia. Bulgaria would commit suicide if she did not fight on the side of the central powers which offer the only possibility of realizing her desire for union of all Bulgarian peoples."

HUNS FIGHT FOR PROPERTY.

The news agency says further:—"The manifesto which is not only an historical document but contains valuable material in regard to Bulgarian politics and economics, states that Russia is fighting for Constantinople and the Dardanelles, Great Britain to destroy Germany's competition, France for Alsace and Lorraine, and the other allies to rob foreign countries. The central powers are fighting to defend property and assure peaceful progress."

"The loyal neutrality maintained by Bulgaria has been advantageous up to the present time, the manifesto says, and it is only now that the military and economic preparations have been completed."

"The manifesto says that Serbia, the worst enemy of Bulgaria, has oppressed the purely Bulgarian population of Macedonia in the most barbarous manner, the male population being compelled to die for Serbia's cause, the women being outraged, and the rivers running red with blood."

DUMBA'S BLUNDERING

MESSENGER.
James F. J. Archibald, the American newspaper correspondent, who was approached while carrying important documents to Germany and Austria from the Ambassadors of those two countries at Washington.
He became badly tangled in his own network of falsehoods and will have to explain his action to the Washington authorities.Russians Hold German Armies
in Close CheckTeuton Flanks Around Dvinsk
Are Wavering Before
Aggressive AttacksPetrograd, October 7.—The only parts of the Russian front that display any great activity now are the Dvinsk sector and the sector on the middle Styk at Volhynia. At Dvinsk, despite unceasing efforts, the Germans are still held at gunshot distance, and whenever they make a vigorous attack they suffer repulse with heavy loss from Russian artillery fire. General Von Baulow is taking Dvinsk very seriously. Along the Wilkomir road a field railway runs over twenty miles and heavy guns and ammunition are being brought up continuously to the front.
The German forces immediately opposite Dvinsk are being strengthened,
but the flanks are wavering. North of Dvinsk the Russians are harassing the Germans, driving them out of village after village. South of Dvinsk the enemy's front is being steadily pushed back toward Sventzian, and almost daily the Russians recapture a village or two and lead off German prisoners.There is no doubt that the German soldiers are very tired. The testimony of both prisoners and refugees is conclusive on that point. The fact that most of the work of the advance had been done by the artillery
has spoiled the infantry who now
at the end of the season, far from home and at the moment of greatest weariness, are compelled to attack
under novel conditions of deadly Russian fire.London, October 7.—In the debate
in the House of Lords, yesterday, on the Armenian massacres, Viscount Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, said that such information as he had reached him
many quarters showed that the figure of 800,000 Armenians destroyed
since May was quite a possible number. Virtually the whole nation had been wiped out, he declared, and he did not suppose there was any case
in history of a crime "so hideous
and on so large a scale.""The death of these people," said Viscount Bryce, "resulted from the deliberate and premeditated policy of the gang now in possession of the Turkish government. Orders for the massacres came in every case direct from Constantinople. In some instances local governors, being humane, pious men, refused to carry out the orders, and at least two governors were summarily dismissed
for this reason."PROCEDURE OUTLINED.
"The customary procedure was to round up the whole of the population of a designated town. A part of the male population was thrown into prison and the remainder of the population were marched out of town and in the suburbs the men were separated from the women and children. These men were then taken to a convenient place and shot or bayoneted. The women and children were then put under a convoy of the lower kind of soldiers and dispatched to some distant destination.""They were driven by the soldiers day after day. Many fell by the way and many died of hunger, for no provisions were furnished them. They were robbed of all they possessed and in many cases the women were stripped naked and made to accompany the march in that condition. And many of the women went mad and threw away their children.
The caravan route was marked by a line of corpses. Comparatively few of the people ever reached their destinations."10,000 DESTROYED IN ONE AFTERNOON.
"The facts as to the slaughter in Trebizond are vouched for by the Italian consul. Orders came for the murder of all the Armenian Christians in Trebizond. Many Mus-sultans tried to save their Christian friends, but the authorities were implacable and hunted out all the Christians and then drove them down to the sea front. They then put them aboard sail-boats and carried them some distance out to sea and threw them overboard. The whole Armenian population, numbering 10,000, was thus destroyed in one afternoon."The Marquis of Crewe quoted the British consul at Batoum regarding appalling horrors which he said had taken place in the district of Sasson, where the population was absolutely exterminated except for a handful of people who escaped to the mountains. There had been a great number of refugees into the Russian and Caucasian provinces, said the Marquis, and a vast number had arrived in the Brivan district.100,000 REFUGEES.
"The consul at Batoum," the Marquis continued, "states that 100,000 refugees passed through Igdir and Erichowidz. He gives the most horrible description of their condition—ravaged by disease and starving. He attempted to advance, but was stopped by our fire. South of Khorassan, near the village of Kurda, there have been brushes with a Turkish advance guard."Greeks Protest Against Landing of AlliesAppears to Have Been Purely Formal as People Welcome FrenchAthens, October 2.—The following statement was issued officially after a meeting of the cabinet: "The French minister delivered the following note to Premier Venizelos:
"By order of my government I have the honor to announce to your excellency the arrival at Soloniki of the first detachment of French troops and to declare at the same time that France and England, allied to Servia, send their troops to help the latter as well as to maintain their communications with her, and that the two powers count upon Greece,
who already has given them so many proofs of friendship, not to oppose measures taken in the interests of Serbia of whom she also is the ally."QUICK REPLY.
"Premier Venizelos replied: 'I have the honor to declare to your excellency that, being neutral, the royal government could not possibly authorize the proceedings in question, for it constitutes a breach of Greece's neutrality, the more manifest, since it comes from two great belligerent powers. It is therefore the duty of the royal government to protest against the passage of foreign troops across Greek territory.
The circumstance that these troops
are destined solely to aid Serbia, Greece's ally, in no way modifies the legal position of the king's government; for even from a Balkan point of view Greece's neutrality could not be affected, before the actual casus foederis was committed, by the danger now threatening Serbia which has led to the dispatch of international troops to her help.'"The French and British officers who already have landed have been received most cordially by the local civil, naval and military authorities
and have been able to begin work immediately on their arrival. Public opinion is that it is necessary for the entente powers to give assistance to Serbia.

The Germans Back
All Along The LinePetrograd, October 6, via London, October 6.—The following official statement from headquarters was issued tonight:
"In the Jakobstadt region the usual fusillade became intensified.
Southward of Jakobstadt, the Germans bombarded the neighborhood of Bargard.
"In the region of Dvinsk the artillery duel has been incessant. South of Potosayvo dislodged the enemy from his trenches. At the farms of Zabazze, between the Narotche and Vichnevo Lake, we pushed the enemy farther back. In the course of the pursuit of the Germans to the southwest of Vichnevo Lake our troops occupied Abramovozhsk and the village of Manki, north of Smorgon.
"In the southern region of the Priest river there is no change.
"On the estuary of Stokhod the enemy once more sought to capture the village under cover of a concentrated fire by his artillery. We repulsed this attack. Southwest of Clartorsk the enemy was thrown back toward the village of Novo Selki, leaving in our hands about 50 prisoners and one quick rifle.
"In the region of the villages of Krasnovolka, Kosovoytsch and Kolk
we had several conflicts with the enemy who was moving toward the east.
"On the Caucasus front in the coastal regions of the Black Sea, southwest of Khopa, there has been nothing but advance guard actions.
Southeast of Lake Portum, on the front between the villages of Kakhk
and Ardost, northwest of Khorassan, on October 4, the Turks, profiting by darkness, attempted to advance, but were stopped by our fire. South of Khorassan, near the village of Kurda, there have been brushes with
a Turkish advance guard."
